Mr. Elley Bailey, who lives in Chesterfield county, near Mt. Hermon church, was quite painfully hurt Wednesday while at work cutting timber. A heavy log fell upon him, breaking his leg below the knee. He was taken home, and Dr. T. O. Markham, the family physician, was summoned, and set the fractured limb. Yesterday Mr. Bailey was reported as getting along as well as could be expected.

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET.

CHICAGO, ILL., May 23.—After the most exciting market in years wheat closed 1 1-2c. higher than yesterday. Before the opening the curb was from 1 2-4 to 2 3-4c. higher than the last previous official quotation. This strength was the result of rumors of the financial embarrassment of J. C. Schwartz, a heavy professional operator. He denied being in difficulty, but his failure to margin his trades this morning obliged the houses with which he had opened trades to buy in his wheat. The immediate effect of this, the first failure among the shorts on the present boom, was to cause further strength. Many of the big professionals are said to have turned buils within the last few days, crop experts whom they have sent out confirming the reports of serious injury to the crop.

July wheat, which sold on the curb at 90c, this morning, advanced later to 80c.

reports of serious injury to the crop.

July wheat, which sold on the curb at 50c, this morning, advanced later to 50c.

The fluctuations were quick and wide, and a nervous activity was noted during the last ten minutes. The market became weak and panicky. Offerings met with no response from buyer, and July wheat, which had been moving around $1.3c., broke to 78.12c. There was very little wheat sold on the block, the demand being so light that sales could not be effected. July wheat opened at from 80 to 81c., ranged between 78.12 and 82c., and closed at 78.3-4c.—1.2c higher than yesterday. Sample wheat was 4c, a bushel higher.

Corn advanced moderately, but no effort was made to keep pace with wheat. Much of the activity that is usually found in corn had drifted over to wheat, but even with this desertion there was a fair day's business.

July corn opened at from 55.1-2655.3-ic., sold between 55656c., and closed at the inside—1-4c. higher than yesterday. Cash corn was 1-2c. higher than yesterday. Cash corn was 1-2c. higher than yesterday. The strength in other grains was still prominent, and the shorts began to display some nervousness, so that prices in this usually undemonstrable market were moving up with celerity. July oats closed at 31.2-6c.—13-5611-3c. higher than yesterday.

Provisions—The packers were sellers of product to-day, and the buying orders were generally from the country. The strong wheat market tended to help prices at the start, but the long receipts were large, and prices at the yards were lower, which of,set the sympathetic strength. The close on July pork and lard was

10c. lower, and on July ribs, 71-2c. lower.
